

HIGH DOWN SCHOOLS

Privacy Notice for School Workforce, including Governors and Trustees

About this Privacy Notice

High Down Schools are part of Lighthouse Schools Partnership and are covered by the Trust's Data Protection Policy.

Individuals have a legal right to be informed about how we use their personal information data, which can identify them either directly or indirectly. This Privacy Notice explains how we collect, store and use personal information about the people we employ, or otherwise engage, to work at our school.

It is intended for the school workforce (including school governors, volunteers and contract staff) and we encourage all to read it. We have produced separate privacy notices for pupils and parents.

Our aim is to always provide clear information about the personal information we are using and why we are using it. If anything is unclear, or if you have any concerns then please contact the School Business Manager

This is an 'overarching' privacy notice and it applies generally to most of the personal information that we collect and use about our workforce. It is based on the model privacy notice for the school workforce produced by the Department for Education (DfE). Unless there is a lawful reason not to do so, we will also provide more specific privacy information at the point at which we collect or use personal information that is not captured by this notice.

While much of the personal information that we collect is mandatory (i.e. it must be provided so that we can manage the employment relationship with you and the school), some of it may be requested on a voluntary basis. Where this is the case, we will request consent at the point we collect the information. We will explain to you whether there is a requirement to provide certain information to us, or whether you have a choice in doing so.

For the purposes of data protection law, High Down Schools are the 'data controller'.

Our school contact for data protection matters is:

One West (iWest), Lewis House, Manvers Street, Bath, BA1 1JG.

Contact details are provided at the end of this privacy notice.

The personal data we hold (categories of personal data)

We process personal data relating to those we employ, or otherwise engage to work at our school in order to manage the working relationship and to run the school for example, contact details, date of birth etc.

Examples of the types of personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) are listed at Appendix 1.

Special category (sensitive) personal information

We may also collect, store, and use information about you that falls into "special categories" of more sensitive personal data which has extra protection in law and requires us to identify a condition for processing under Article 9 of the GDPR.

These conditions will vary but common reasons may include where processing sensitive data is necessary for reasons of 'substantial public interest' such as safeguarding; statutory and government purposes (e.g. Department for Education (DfE) requirements) or for ensuring equality of opportunity or treatment. We may also require your explicit consent for things such as the use of unique identifiers (e.g. fingerprints); or we may need to share health data to maintain a person's vital interests where they are unable to give consent (life and death situations).

Special category data is personal data revealing:

- racial or ethnic origin
- political opinions
- religious or philosophical beliefs
- trade union membership
- genetic data
- biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person
- data concerning health; or
- data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation

Criminal convictions

Where we process criminal convictions, for example as part of a job application or statutory requirement we also have to identify an additional ground for processing. Usually this will either be either on the basis of our legal obligations in relation to safeguarding, preventing fraud or with your consent.

Our lawful reasons for processing workforce information (lawful bases)

Data Protection law requires us to have a lawful reason ('lawful basis') for processing the personal data we use. These reasons are listed under Article 6 of the 'General Data Protection Regulation' (GDPR). Our lawful basis for processing will be explained at the point at which we collect personal information unless there is a lawful reason not to do so (for example where it is for the prevention or detection of crime).

High Down Schools process a wide range of personal data for a variety of purposes, as described above. The lawful bases we rely on will therefore vary. However, generally, the lawful bases we mainly use in relation to our workforce are:

- To fulfil a contract we have entered into with you: For example we need to collect and use your personal information to fulfil the terms of the employment contract we have with you including to be able to pay you and to administer benefits and pensions.
- We need to comply with the law (we have a legal obligation): For example we collect and use workforce information under legal and statutory obligations within the Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) statutory guidelines. We are required to check employees' suitability to work with children, their entitlement to work in the UK and to comply with health and safety laws.
- We need to carry out a task in the public interest: For example, where the collection and use of workforce information is necessary for us to perform our role as a school and to deliver our public task of providing education to our pupils.

Less commonly, we may also use personal information about you where:

- You have given us consent to use it in a certain way (for example a photo of you for promotional purposes or on our website).
- We need to protect your vital interests (or someone else's interests). This relates to life and death situations.
- It is in ours, a third party's, legitimate business interests to process the data. Where this is the case we will ensure that we have considered whether or not our legitimate interests are overridden by your rights and freedoms as the worker or employee.

Where you have provided us with consent to use your data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so. We will then cease this aspect of processing, unless another lawful basis applies.

Some of the reasons that we use for collecting and using information may overlap and there may be several grounds allowing us to use personal data. There are also other lawful bases that may apply and this will be made clear wherever possible.

Our lawful basis for processing will be explained at the point at which we collect personal information unless there is a lawful reason not to do so (for example where it is for the prevention or detection of crime).

Collecting workforce information: Why do we collect and use your information?

The reasons that we collect and use personal information enable us to manage our workforce and help us to run the school, please refer to Appendix 2 for examples.

We collect and use information about you in a variety of ways including through the recruitment process, information obtained through identity documents, from correspondence with you or through interviews, meetings or other assessments while you are working with us. The ways in which we collect workforce information may also include methods as outlined at Appendix 3.

In many cases we will collect information about you from third parties such as references provided by former employers and information from employment checks or criminal records checks permitted by law.

Whilst you will be required to provide us with some information, there is some information that you can choose whether or not to provide to us. Whenever we seek to collect information from you, we make it clear whether you must provide this information (and if so, what the possible consequences are of not complying), or whether you have a choice.

Who we share workforce information with

Information about our workforce will not be shared with any third party without consent unless the law permits this. Where it is legally required or is otherwise necessary (and it complies with data protection law) personal information may be shared with the relevant local authority - to meet our legal obligations to share certain information such as safeguarding concerns or with the Department for Education (DfE). The DfE processes personal data relating to those employed by schools (including all academies and free schools and all special schools including pupil referral units). To find out more about the data collection requirements that are placed upon us by the DfE including the data that we share with them go to: <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

Further examples of with whom we share data are listed at Appendix 4.

Storing our workforce data

Personal data is stored in line with our data protection policy in a range of different places including in your personnel file and in IT systems including the school's email system.

We create and maintain an employment file for each staff member. The information contained in this file is kept secure and is only used for purposes relevant to your employment. Once your employment with us has ended, we will retain this file and delete the information in line with our retention policies, termination of employment + 6 years.

A copy of the Retention Schedule can be found on the LSP Gateway.

Transferring data internationally

Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law and ensure that we have sufficient safeguards in place.

Requesting access to your personal data

Individuals have the right to request access to information about them that we hold. This is known as making a 'Subject Access Request' (SAR). If you make a subject access request, and if we hold information about you, we will:

- Give you a description of it

- Tell you why we are holding and processing it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form within a month, unless an extension is necessary on the ground of the complexity of the request

You may also have the right for your personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances. If you would like to make a request, please contact the School Business Manager

Other rights

Under data protection law, individuals have certain rights regarding how their personal data is used and kept safe. You have the right to:

- To have personal data rectified, if it is inaccurate or incomplete.
- To request the deletion or removal of personal data where there is no compelling reason for its continued processing.
- To restrict our processing of personal data (i.e. permitting its storage but no further processing).
- To object to processing if we are processing your information as part of our public tasks, or is in our legitimate interests in which case we will consider your objection, and balance this against our need to process the information.
- To object to direct marketing (including profiling) and processing for the purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics.
- To withdraw your consent to processing, although we may still continue to process your data if a basis other than consent applies.
- To have personal information, which you have provided, transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.
- Not to be subject to decisions based purely on automated processing where it produces a legal or similarly significant effect - unless you have agreed or in other limited circumstances

Complaints

If you have a concern or complaint about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, please raise your concern with us in the first instance office@highdownschools.org . You may also contact the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
